

Three Faculty Positions in the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering at the UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

The Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for up to three tenure-track faculty positions effective September 1, 2014. These positions are part of the strategic expansion intended to support research and teaching activities in environmental and sustainable engineering. These positions are intended for applicants with fundamental expertise and research interests in sustainable infrastructure/built environment, materials, sustainable energy systems, environmental engineering and science, and water-energy nexus. Preference will be given to appointees at the Assistant Professor level but applicants with outstanding credentials will be considered at higher levels.

We are seeking outstanding candidates to join our vibrant and growing department of 19 faculty members, 300 undergraduate and 160 full-time graduate students (60 of which are PhD students). The successful applicant will be expected to develop and sustain a strong, externally funded research program within their area of expertise and contribute to the teaching mission of the graduate and undergraduate programs. Candidates interested in collaborative and interdisciplinary research and teaching within the Department and/or other faculty in related focus areas in the Swanson School of Engineering, such as the Mascarocenter for Sustainable Innovation (MCSI) (www.mascarocenter.pitt.edu) and the University of Pittsburgh Center for Energy (www.energy.pitt.edu) are encouraged to apply. Applicants should review the departmental website at www.engineering.pitt.edu/civil for additional information.

An earned doctorate in civil engineering, environmental engineering and science, earth science or a closely related field is required. Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, a detailed resume, statements describing teaching and research interests and future plans, copies of three representative publications, and the names and contact information for at least three references, all in a single PDF file, to CEESearch2013@engr.pitt.edu.

Applications will be considered beginning December 15, 2013 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer.
